

DUFFY THE COP IS SORE ON CHINK OPERA

Couldn't Exactly Describe the Motif, but It Made a Divvle of a Noise.

Among the auditors at the Chinese Theatre last Sunday night was Police-man Patrick Duffy, the orator of the Elizabeth street station. As the performance progressed Duffy's expressive countenance betrayed the entire gamut of human emotions. John Cavanagh, manager of the theatre, was at the door when Duffy went out.

"Cavanagh," said Duffy severely, "I'll have to pinch you. This massacre, or whatever you call it, is a violation of the law."

Cavanagh put on his overcoat and went over to the station-house, where he gave bail to secure his appearance in Centre Street Court to-day. Duffy appeared against him.

"What was the nature of the performance?" asked Magistrate Wahl.

"Well," replied Duffy, scratching his head, "it was something terrible. You could hear it a mile. I didn't sleep for three nights after."

"Was it an oratorio?" inquired the Magistrate.

"Sure I dunno what it was," proclaimed Duffy, confidentially. "They talked Chinese, and that's a language I never could twist my tongue to. They could have been calling each other all the names in the calendar, and I wouldn't know if they was in-vidin' one another to go out and have a drink. It might have been a musicale for all I know."

"Was it cancan music, or was it slow and dignified?"

"If you ask me, Your Honor," answered Duffy, "I'd call it a war dance. It was a South Sea cannibal dance—that's what it was."

"What kind of instruments were used?"

"Tin cans," said Duffy. "Tin cans, dishpans, brass drums, kettle drum and tom-toms. It was like you'd en through a tin store with a baseball bat. If there was any tune to it I never heard one similar. Every once in a while a fat Chink on the stage would let a screech out of him like he was gettin' stabbed. The heathens seemed to enjoy it, but every man to his own way of enjoyment."

"Duffy," said Magistrate Wahl, with mock severity, "do you mean to say that you arrested this man without knowing what you arrested him for?"

"Well, Your Honor," explained Duffy, "if it wasn't a violation of the Sunday law it was the most infernal racket that ever was heard outside of a boiler shop. I arrested Cavanagh because the can in told me to, and I thought the can would walk in Calvary if the noise went on."

Cavanagh was discharged, as there was nothing from any one in Calvary Cemetery.

M'CLELLAN SHAKES HANDS WITH JEROME.

Mayor and District-Attorney at Last Appear on Friendly Terms.

For the first time in three years Mayor George B. McClellan and District-Attorney William Travers Jerome shook hands to-day. The hatcher is apparently buried.

It all happened at the meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The District-Attorney had an application on the calendar for $10,000 to push along the prosecution of the insurance frauds, and was there to urge the necessity of securing the money. Taking a position at one end of the horse-shoe he waited for the Board to be called to order.

While Mr. Jerome was waiting the Mayor entered and took his seat in the big high chair.

He was just about to bring the gavel down on his desk when he saw Jerome's face grinning up at him. Instantly he arose and walked around to where the District-Attorney was standing. Jerome walked toward the Mayor and the two shook hands warmly and chatted a few moments. Then both went back to their seat.

THOUGH ONCE RICH HE DIED A WRECK

Worth $50,000 ten years ago, but started on a downward path by the death of his wife, Joseph Dzegos, forty-five years old, today died a wreck from alcoholism and exposure in a hall-way at No. 70 Sheriff street.

Dzegos was once a prosperous grocer. His wife died a short time after their marriage. Then he began to drink. He had no children nor any one else to care what he did. He sold out his store and began spending the proceeds recklessly.

His last cent was spent several months ago. Then his supposed friends deserted him. He lived off the free lunch counters in the saloons where he had formerly spent his money. But this scanty living had failed of late.

Last night, after being thrown out of a saloon when he was trying to take something from the free-lunch counter without having bought a drink, he crept into the hallway at No. 70 Sheriff street for shelter from the storm. Early today the janitor found him there blue and cold and inert. An ambulance was called from Gouverneur Hospital, but when the surgeon arrived he said Dzegos was dead. The body was taken by the police to the morgue and it will probably go to Potter's Field.

$450 Concert Grand Upright Pianos, $225

$5 Down and $1 Per Week.

This newest Walters creation of 1905 Rococo Piano is in a class all by itself.

The highest pinnacle of piano perfection has been reached in this piano.

As a special St. Patrick's Day attraction, we have arranged to offer 250 of these $450 new model Walters Rococo Pianos for $225. They are built on the most artistic lines, and are the best money and brains can make.

They Are Pianos that Are Built to Last Forever.

There is nothing in the piano line to equal them, even at double our price. They are pianos that will be a joy and pleasure to every home.

Style—In style, quality, construction, workmanship, tone and durability they are unsurpassed.

Action—The improved repeating action is one of the finest that can be made, and is guaranteed in every detail for twenty-five years.

In Tonal Quality—The Walters Rococo 1906 model is pre-eminent. | Construction—It is without a rival.

Design—In artistic design and make-up there is no piano in the world at anywhere near the price that can equal it. It is conceded to be the finest piano manufactured, and is constructed on the highest plan known in piano building.

The cases are the newest and most attractive in design; they are bird's-eye maple lined, made of the finest double veneer, artistically carved; in fact, they compare with any $800 piano of any make.

They contain the finest repeating action, best in the world, and guaranteed for 25 years; copper wound strings in the bass, keys are of the finest selected ivory, sharps are patent covered, smooth as glass. They have sixteen-pound Schmidt hammers, which are the very finest hammers manufactured in the world, and are made of the best felt obtainable. They have solid brass pedals and solid brass continuous hinges; new improved sounding board, which will last forever; the pins are all bushed, of the very best workmanship; the backs are let in and strictly dustproof.

We offer 250 of these beautiful $450 New Rococo 1906 model celebrated tone-lasting Walters concert grand upright pianos, including stool with back and new style rubber cover.

and thereafter $1.00 per week until the piano is paid for.

We charge no interest for time taken in making payments; we do not charge for insurance, and there are no extras whatever; $225, that's all.

If you secure one of these beautiful pianos to-morrow at $225 you get it at a price

Which Is About Half Its Value.

Besides, You Save from $200 to $250 and make one of the best piano investments in the world.

As Mr. Walters stated time and time again, and I have no hesitancy in corroborating him, these pianos will hold the tone longer than any other piano in the world. In fact, they are pianos built to last forever. Any one securing one of these beautiful Rococo Walters Pianos makes the best and safest piano investment in the world, besides the Walters Piano Company guarantee these pianos to last a lifetime. I think they are one of the handsomest designs we have ever turned out, and the $250 will be sold long before your store closes on Saturday evening, March 17th.

The design of the cases is original, beautiful and attractive; we have put our expert knowledge into every detail of these pianos, and they contain many improvements not to be found in any other make of piano.

Have you noticed our improved pedal action, which is one of the greatest achievements we ever accomplished in piano building? It will positively prevent squeaking, and a child can manipulate it with ease.

Don't Delay! Come to-morrow and make your selection, so you will not be disappointed in securing the greatest piano value in the world.
